

Cargo Insurance

Protects your shipments while in transit.

A lot can go wrong when shipping cargo around the world. Safeguard your business with cargo insurance.

Cargo insurance gives you peace of mind knowing that your business is shielded from loss or damage to cargo while it's in transit. An important business insurance coverage, it safeguards you from the financial impact of any unforeseen events that may occur during the shipping process.

Because every business and shipment is unique, you can choose the coverage that best aligns with your needs:

All Risk Coverage

The most popular choice among freight forwarders and logistics service providers, all risk coverage provides extensive protection against an extensive array of perils or risks that might lead to cargo loss or damage. It typically encompasses risks such as theft, accidents or mishandling damage, fire, natural disasters, and various other unforeseen events that could potentially result in cargo loss or damage.

Free of Particular Average (FPA) Insurance

In contrast with all risk coverage, free of particular average (FPA) insurance tends to be more limited in scope, covering losses caused by perils or accidents that are significant in nature, such as a ship sinking, grounding, or collision.
